The Group has been committed to achieving the sustainable development goal of environmental protection and energy saving. By implementing the Environmental and Quality Management System to manage the environment in a systematic manner, the Group strives to deliver the development strategy of balancing environment, society and economy. In 2025, the Group was awarded with the Silver Medal by EcoVadis in the evaluation of corporate social responsibility. The Group has adopted the life cycle management concept in all the business activities worldwide to minimize adverse effect on the environment in the course of production and service offering. It performs its compliance obligations and enhances environmental performance, thus contributing to the improvement of the sustainable development of environment and society.

During the reporting period, the Group did not have any material non-compliance with relevant laws and regulations that have a significant impact on the Group relating to exhaust gas and greenhouse gas emissions, discharge of wastewater and removal of residue and generation of hazardous and poisonous waste.

(I) EMISSIONS

To implement relevant laws and regulations promulgated by the People's Republic of China ("PRC") such as Environmental Protection Law (《環境保護法》), the Law on the Prevention and Control of Air Pollution (《大氣污染防治法》), the Law on the Prevention and Control of Water Pollution (《水污染防治法》), the Group sets a goal of environmental management to achieve pollution reduction and emission control and strictly monitors waste discharge during the course of production by setting up ISO14001 Environmental Management System and carrying out environmental control procedures as well as environmental monitoring and measurement control procedures pursuant to the working guideline of "standardizing the works of environmental management, taking precaution as the main task, fulfilling regulation requirement, satisfying the standards of emission to make sure that it is under control and continuing to save energy and reduce consumption", with the aim to ensure the management and control of pollution at source. The Group is committed to achieving environmental and social sustainability in its daily operations. In terms of environmental aspects of the 2024 sustainable development goal, we strive to ensure zero fine in exhaust gas emission continuously. In each production area are discharged after treatment in accordance with the approved requirements based on the evaluation on the impact on the environment and the production areas shall perform annual review to ensure legal and compliant emission of exhaust gas. Designated dumping areas in each production base segregated wastes by licensed waste collectors and the garbage in the bases was strictly sorted and recycled.

During the production process of the Group, there is no emission of industrial wastewater. We classify wastes generated during the course of operation into non-hazardous wastes and hazardous wastes, which are then disposed of through different methods according to their types, thereby mitigating the negative impact on the environment. The waste generated by the Group includes waste silicone, glues, waste activated carbon and waste engine oil. The Group has entered into contracts for hazardous waste treatment with companies that have obtained national qualification for hazardous waste treatment to carry out regular waste disposal. It has also signed treatment orders for hazardous wastes to be regularly reported on the government website for reporting hazardous wastes. The Group classified wastes for proper disposal and avoided sending waste to landfill, so as to minimize the negative impact on the environment. Non-hazardous waste was managed with 100% compliance in disposal. Non-hazardous waste mainly includes domestic waste generating from daily office works and canteen of the Company. They are treated in strict compliance with the sorting principle and regularly sent for incineration and harmless treatment. Raw material wastes are treated as domestic wastes. For canteen garbage, the Group has entered into treatment contracts with qualified companies for regular disposals.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

The Group will enhance the monitoring of relevant data in respect of emissions, water usage and hazardous and non-hazardous wastes. The Company will also enhance the accuracy of data collection and increase the number of personnel responsible for these tasks. Additionally, the Company will assess the feasibility and operability of specific measures in daily operations. When conditions permit, we will promptly formulate practical and achievable emission reduction targets based on production volume in these areas.

Notes:

- The Group's greenhouse gas (GHG) accounting and reporting follows the requirements of the GHG Protocol (i.e., The Greenhouse Gas Protocol: A Corporate Accounting and Reporting Standard (Revised Edition)) and ISO 14064-1. The GHG emission inventory is prepared adhering to the five principles of relevance, completeness, consistency, transparency, and accuracy. Scope 1 (Direct GHG emissions): Emissions from sources owned or controlled by the Company, generated from activities such as stationary combustion, mobile combustion, process emissions, and fugitive emissions. Scope 2 (Energy indirect GHG emissions): Emissions from the generation of purchased energy (e.g., electricity) consumed by equipment or operations owned or controlled by the Company. Scope 3 (Other indirect GHG emissions): Emissions from the Company's upstream and downstream activities.
- The methodology used by the Company to calculate GHG emissions is the emission factor method (Emissions = Activity Data (AD) x Emission Factor (EF) x Global Warming Potential (GWP)). This internationally recognized calculation method was chosen as there is no established methodology specific to the Company or its region. There was no change in the quantification methodology during the reporting period. The GWP values used in this report are taken from the IPCC Sixth Assessment Report (2021).

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

1. Input of Activity Data (AD) and Emission Factors (EF) for Scope 1:
  - AD: Refers to consumption/generation data for each emission source during the reporting period, such as fuel consumption by company vehicles, quantity of fire extinguishing agent (e.g., FM200) refilled, amount of organically degradable material in septic tanks, consumption of dry ice in production processes, etc.
  - EF: Selected emission factors from the IPCC 2006 Guidelines for National Greenhouse Gas Inventories (Volume 2 Energy and Volume 5 Waste) and the mass balance method provided by the IPCC.
2. Input of Activity Data (AD) and Emission Factors (EF) for Scope 2:
  - AD: Based on electricity consumption.
  - EF: Based on the national average CO<sub>2</sub> emission factor for electricity published by the environmental protection government departments of the countries where Comba's subsidiaries and branches are located.
3. Input of Activity Data (AD) and Emission Factors (EF) for Scope 3:
  - AD: The Company collects data through its travel system, logistics system, procurement system, and data provided by suppliers.
  - EF: Selected relevant parameters and requirements from the UK Government GHG Conversion Factors for Company Reporting (2025), the Chinese Life Cycle Database (CLCD), and the Ecoinvent database.
4. The main assumptions used in calculating GHG emissions are as follows:
  - When calculating Scope 1 GHG emissions from fugitive emissions of refrigerants, fire extinguishing agents, etc., due to the absence of GHG leak monitoring devices on refrigeration equipment and fire extinguishing systems, and considering the difficulty and cost of obtaining Activity Data (AD), we use the mass balance method provided by the IPCC 2006 Guidelines. We assume that at the time of refilling, all refrigerants and fire extinguishing agents being replaced are fully released (i.e., Emission Factor (EF) = 1).
  - When calculating Scope 2 (location-based) GHG emissions from purchased electricity consumption, the emission factor used is the national average CO<sub>2</sub> emission factor for electricity published by the environmental authorities in the countries where Comba's subsidiaries and branches are located. It is assumed that this factor is representative of the average carbon emission level of electricity generation in the regions where the subsidiaries and branches are located.
  - When calculating Scope 3 GHG emissions for the "End-of-Life Treatment of Sold Products" category, a scenario analysis is conducted based on the product characteristics, assuming recycling as the end-of-life treatment method. This assumption is based on the following: 1. According to expert experience, the Company's products are mainly made of metal and plastic, which are largely recyclable at the end of their life, with virtually no landfilling or incineration. 2. Our products are components and are not directly sold to the end-market, making it infeasible to investigate the disposal methods of sold products. Quantifying based on the end-of-life treatment methods of end-user products in the market is also not feasible. 3. The total emissions from end-of-life treatment account for less than 0.01% of the organization's total emissions, and the carbon emission coefficients for different disposal stages like incineration and landfilling are relatively similar. Therefore, the impact on the organization's total emissions is minimal.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

- The Scope 2 GHG emissions disclosed by the Company are location-based emissions, calculated based on the consumption of purchased electricity in 2025. The primary emission factor used is the national average CO<sub>2</sub> emission factor for electricity published by the environmental authorities of the countries where Comba's subsidiaries and branches operate. Specifically, Comba's Guangzhou factory entered into a Retail Transaction Contract between Power Seller and Electricity User with a power sales company for 2025. This contract is for conventional electricity retail trading and does not include any terms regarding green power attributes. This contract is the primary basis for determining 2025 electricity consumption and its associated emissions. Furthermore, to achieve GHG emission reduction targets, the Guangzhou factory signed a Renewable Energy Green Electricity Certificate Trading Contract in February 2026 and completed the transfer of 10,546 China Green Electricity Certificates (GEC) in March 2026. These certificates correspond to 10,546 MWh of renewable electricity generated during the 2025 production year, from non-subsidized, non-grid-connection wind and solar projects located outside Zhejiang Province. These GECs will be used to offset the market-based Scope 2 emissions for 2025.
- The Company's Scope 3 GHG emissions are calculated and reported following the requirements of the GHG Protocol (i.e., the Corporate Value Chain (Scope 3) Accounting and Reporting Standard). Emissions are calculated for the 15 categories of Scope 3 emission sources:

Upstream Scope 3 Emission Categories	Downstream Scope 3 Emission Categories
Category 1: Purchased Goods and Services	Category 9: Downstream Transportation and Distribution
Category 2: Capital Goods	Category 10: Processing of Sold Products
Category 3: Fuel- and Energy-Related Activities (not included in Scope 1 and Scope 2)	Category 11: Use of Sold Products
Category 4: Upstream Transportation and Distribution	Category 12: End-of-Life Treatment of Sold Products
Category 5: Waste Generated in Operations	Category 13: Downstream Leased Assets
Category 6: Business Travel	Category 14: Franchises
Category 7: Employee Commuting	Category 15: Investments
Category 8: Upstream Leased Assets	–

- The volume of sewage discharge is calculated according to the amount of water used. The sewage discharge coefficient is based on National Standard for Urban Drainage Works Planning Specification of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國國家標準城市排水工程規劃規範》) and relevant documents of the National Bureau of Statistics of the PRC.
- The volume of non-hazardous waste emission is measured based on the per capita household waste output coefficient as specified in the guidance released by the State Council of the PRC.
- Non-hazardous waste includes domestic waste, kitchen waste, cardboard and waste plastic.

(II) RESOURCE UTILIZATION

The Group takes a careful consideration of environment factors throughout the life cycle of its products and services to provide its products with the characteristics of energy and natural resource saving and non-pollution in each procedure of R&D, production, sales, transportation, utilization and disposal.

In building a green industrial chain, the Group curbed the amount of material used in equipment through technological innovation to reduce the weight of equipment, increased the integration of equipment as well as preferred and adopted high-efficiency power supplies to reduce power consumption of equipment. To reduce the energy consumption of equipment, technologies were used in new products such as the promotion of digital technology, the improvement of chips' integration, the upgrade of structural processes, the enhancement of efficiency of power amplifiers, the dynamic power management, and the software-controlled switches for energy-saving. Through improving the operational efficiency of the products themselves, the Group achieved energy conservation and consumption reduction, and formulated strict procedures in accordance with the Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE). In addition, the Group curbed unnecessary product appearance design and materials and reduce excessive packaging to improve the recyclability and reusability of products.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

The Group commits to aligning with the 1.5°C climate target set forth in the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) initiatives, and pledges to uphold this objective in accordance with future revisions of relevant guidelines. The Company strives to achieve a 50% reduction in greenhouse gas emissions by 2030 in line with the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) criteria.

The Group continuously monitors its energy consumption. In regard to controlling water and electricity consumption, it established the daily inspection mechanism and performed around-the-clock regular and non-regular inspections on power and water utilization across all floors and department of the base. In addition, it provided updates on departments with wastage on a regular basis. Aligned with the ISO 14001 Energy Management System framework, the Group has established a comprehensive water stewardship program to systematically reduce consumption across manufacturing and administrative operations, including Implement closed-loop water recycling systems for rain tests and daily water management protocols, including regular inspection and maintenance to eliminate leaks, which promoting water reuse initiatives to enhance overall efficiency.

The Group has increased its use of renewable energy. Distributed photovoltaic power generation projects were initiated at the Science City and Development Zone campuses. In 2025, they generated a total of 2.02 million kWh of green electricity, reducing annual costs by approximately HK$1.01 million. The Group has replaced the obsolete main units of the central air conditioners in the Development Zone and optimized the operation modes of the exhaust hoods, demonstrating remarkable energy-saving effects. The Group adheres to the ISO 50001 Energy Management System framework, implementing ongoing initiatives to continuously enhance power use efficiency across operations. During the year, the electricity consumption of the Group reduced by 0.76% year-on-year.

The Company effectively manages water consumption and wastewater treatment, organizes energy saving and emission reduction activities, and educates its staff to raise their environmental awareness. The Group did not encounter any difficulties in seeking appropriate water sources. The Group will strengthen the monitoring of data related to water usage and wastewater treatment. When conditions permit, it will promptly formulate practical and achievable resource usage targets (including water consumption and water efficiency) based on production volume in these areas.

The Group promotes green office practices and integrates energy conservation and emission reduction into its business activities ranging from procurement, production, operation and office work. It actively advocates for double-sided printing of documents and reduces colour printing, accelerates the digital transformation of the procurement supply chain, promotes the application of e-procurement and e-ordering processes, and encourages paperless operation for the entire supply chain. The Group continuously pushes forward the electronic management of accounting files, e-invoicing for VAT and paperless operations for reimbursement. It adopts the automatic process for tax declaration to reduce the use of paper documents. The Group encourages online meetings and training to minimize unnecessary business travel. It also collects data on the greenhouse gas emissions from business travels of employees through the business travel information platform.

It assisted 95 employees in applying for hospitalization care, academic qualification upgrade subsidies, and vocational skill subsidies from higher-level trade unions. It helped 38 employees analyze, coordinate, and resolve issues related to their children's education. It organized social and networking activities for single employees to broaden their social platforms and enhance their sense of well-being.

In 2025, the Group participated in organizing and continuously carried out various cultural and sports activities, mainly including the Group's Sports Day opening ceremony and hiking event, badminton matches, basketball matches, swimming matches, chess matches, Guandan card games, hiking events, and the Good Voice Singer Competition. It regularly conducted exchange activities for associations such as badminton, swimming, chess, yoga, and dance, enhancing team cohesion, promoting inter-departmental exchange and cooperation, improving employees' physical fitness, and enriching their spare time life.

While steadily promoting its own healthy and rapid development, the Group vigorously supports social welfare causes and actively fulfills its social responsibilities and obligations. In 2025, total donations in areas such as social charity, poverty alleviation, and public welfare activities amounted to HK$1.066 million.

IX. CLIMATE-RELATED DISCLOSURES

The Group, as a leading global wireless solution provider, deeply recognizes the profound impact of climate change on corporate operations, industry development, and social sustainability. In accordance with the requirements of Part D of the Environmental, Social and Governance Reporting Code as set out in Appendix C2 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited, the Group systematically identifies climate-related risks and opportunities based on the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) standards and the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) 1.5°C target initiative, and formulates corresponding action plans to ensure deep integration of climate management with corporate strategy.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

(I) CLIMATE-RELATED RISK IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT

The Group has established a climate risk management mechanism overseen by the Board and implemented by the ESG Work Leadership Group. Using SBTi standards, the IPCC 1.5°C initiative, and industry ESG professional frameworks as input data, covering global production bases, R&D centers, supply chain, and core business segments, the Group conducts risk identification and ranking (high/medium/low) from two dimensions – transition risks and physical risks – based on industry experience, professional advice from ESG experts, and with reference to universal assessment frameworks. The Group adopts three types of scenario analysis – policy compliance, market green transition, and extreme weather – to identify climate risks, combining qualitative (strategic/operational/financial impact) and quantitative (revenue/asset scale impact thresholds) standards to assess risk impact. In terms of policy compliance, the Group continuously tracks the evolution of domestic and international climate policies and regulatory requirements, including energy efficiency standards and environmental information disclosure requirements, and assesses the potential impact of climate risks on business operations and financial position by simulating changes in compliance costs under different policy tightening scenarios. In addition, we analyze changes in customer preferences during the green transition to identify risks early and adjust strategic positioning. The Group also actively assesses the potential impact of extreme weather events (such as typhoons, floods, earthquakes, high temperatures, etc.) on the Group's assets, supply chain, and business continuity, and identifies climate risk exposure.

The Group also uses climate-related scenario analysis to identify information on climate-related opportunities. For example, we assess trends in low-carbon technology breakthroughs and cost reductions to identify commercialization opportunities in technologies such as clean energy and smart work scenarios. We also monitor projects such as China Green Electricity Certificates (GEC) to analyze and identify relevant opportunities early.

The Board regularly receives reports on climate risk management progress. The ESG Work Leadership Group conducts monthly tracking and control and carries out a comprehensive climate risk assessment annually; core processes have not been adjusted compared to the previous year. The Board regularly evaluates the knowledge base of the ESG Work Leadership Group in areas such as climate science, and ESG governance, ensuring that the ESG Work Leadership Group and the Board possess appropriate skills to effectively oversee strategies for responding to climate-related risks and opportunities through thematic training and support from ESG professionals.

In making decisions regarding the Company's development strategy, major investments/R&D, and other transactions, the Board incorporates climate-related risks and opportunities into its core considerations, fully weighs climate risks against development opportunities, and continuously monitors relevant climate-related risks and opportunities by reviewing progress reports from the ESG Work Leadership Group, adjusting corresponding targets as appropriate. Specifically, when reviewing the Group's medium- to long-term development strategy, the Board systematically evaluates the potential impact of climate change on business models, market positioning, and the competitive landscape. When approving major investments, mergers and acquisitions, R&D projects, and capital expenditures, the Board includes climate-related factors in the scope of due diligence and feasibility assessment. When reviewing business plans, it weighs market growth opportunities against relevant climate physical risks and transition risks. The Board also assesses the impact of different strategic options on stakeholders, ensuring that decisions balance shareholder value, environmental benefits, and social responsibility.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

The Board currently does not include climate-related performance indicators in its remuneration policy. In the future, depending on the progress of climate management work, it will study the feasibility of incorporating climate performance indicators into remuneration assessments. The Board delegates climate risk management responsibilities to the ESG Work Leadership Group. The Leadership Group coordinates various business departments to implement specific governance processes, monitoring measures, and procedures, and works closely with business departments through cross-departmental coordination mechanisms to ensure effective integration of climate monitoring measures with the Group's daily operations and decision-making processes. It regularly reports implementation progress to management, and management supervises and evaluates its work effectiveness.

The following are climate-related risks and opportunities that may affect the Group's cash flows, access to finance, or cost of capital in the short, medium, or long term, based on reasonable expectations and the Group's analysis:

1. Transition Risks

The Group defines short-term as 1-2 years, medium-term as 3-5 years, and long-term as 6 years and above. This timeframe is highly aligned with the Company's strategic planning cycles for product R&D, production capacity layout, and supply chain optimization. The impact periods for each risk below are defined based on this.

- (1) Policy and Regulatory Change Risk (High Risk): The acceleration of global carbon neutrality policies, deepening implementation of China's "Dual Carbon" strategy, and the gradual effectiveness of cross-border carbon control policies such as the EU Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM) may lead to increased environmental compliance costs and higher carbon audit requirements for product exports, potentially impacting the Group's global supply chain and product pricing. This risk affects the Group from the short to long term.
- (2) Market Demand Transition Risk (Medium Risk): Domestic and international customers are increasingly focusing on suppliers' low-carbon performance, and green procurement standards are continuously rising. Failure to promptly upgrade traditional products for low-carbon performance may lead to the risk of losing market share. This risk primarily affects the Group in the medium term.
- (3) Technology Substitution Risk (Medium Risk): The acceleration of low-carbon technology iteration in the communications industry may lead to the loss of technological competitive advantage in core areas such as green antennas and energy-efficient base stations if investment in green product R&D is not sustained. This risk affects the Group in the medium to long term.
- (4) Operating Cost Increase Risk (Low Risk): As climate-related requirements increase, the Company's investment in energy-saving renovations and carbon reduction measures in production and operation processes may increase operating costs. This risk primarily affects the Group in the short term.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

The Group's assets susceptible to climate transition risks primarily include: traditional old air conditioners, compressors, production and testing facilities, etc. The net book value of such assets is HK$5.56 million, accounting for 0.66% of the Group's net fixed assets. These assets have high energy consumption and low adaptability for low-carbon transition; the Company plans to gradually complete technological upgrades and asset replacement.

2. Physical Risks

- (1) Direct Business Interruption Risk in Own Production Operations (Medium Risk): The Group's operations center in Guangzhou Science City, in the Guangzhou Development Zone production base, and overseas branches in Southeast Asia, Europe, and elsewhere face threats from extreme weather events such as typhoons, heavy rain, and floods. The Group's computer rooms and production facility infrastructure may be damaged, affecting the continuity of certain supply chain operations and operational efficiency.
- (2) Assurance Pressure Risk Passed Through from Customers (Low Risk): As a supplier of communication equipment to operators, when communication facilities malfunction or are interrupted due to extreme weather (e.g., base stations toppled by typhoons, equipment submerged by heavy rain, lines damaged by low temperatures, base station infrastructure destroyed by earthquakes), the Group must respond promptly to communication assurance needs, undertaking responsibilities such as emergency supply, on-site repairs, and equipment replacement.

The Group's climate-related risks in its business model and value chain are primarily concentrated in: geographic regions including the Guangzhou Science City operations center/Development Zone production base and various domestic and international branches; facility and asset types including production facility infrastructure and the Company's data centers; value chain segments including manufacturing, production, and logistics transportation. The core reasons for the concentration of related risks in these areas are: the Guangzhou operations center is located in an area with a high incidence of extreme weather events such as typhoons, heavy rain, and floods, making production facilities, logistics, and transportation susceptible to impact; the data center is the Group's core operational infrastructure, with high requirements for power supply and site protection, making it vulnerable to power outages and site damage caused by extreme weather.

The Group's assets/business activities subject to climate-related physical risks are primarily: to mitigate these risks, the Group anticipates increasing annual investment in production and infrastructure for physical risk prevention. The Group's assets subject to climate-related physical risks primarily include: testing facilities, power distribution facilities, and servers at the Guangzhou Science City operations center and Development Zone production base. The total net book value of these assets is HK$4.67 million, accounting for 0.56% of the Group's net fixed assets.

(II) CLIMATE-RELATED OPPORTUNITY IDENTIFICATION AND STRATEGIC LAYOUT

While climate change presents challenges, it also drives the green transformation of the communications industry. Leveraging its core technology and market advantages, the Group focuses on exploring four major categories of opportunities. In current and future plans for its strategies and decisions, we will also consider the relevant climate-related risks and opportunities.

In terms of resource allocation, the Company invests resources in researching green surface treatment processes, new materials research, green packaging materials, etc., to enhance product low-carbon transition and reduce product carbon footprint. Supply chain resources integrate green assessment into supplier access, prioritizing the procurement of low-carbon raw materials. The Group has initiated and plans to continuously promote adaptation/mitigation efforts, including: direct mitigation actions such as R&D of low-carbon products, promotion of renewable energy, optimization of production processes to reduce carbon emissions, and building a green supply chain; indirect mitigation actions such as helping customers reduce base station carbon emissions through green products and promoting the green transformation of the communications industry; adaptation actions such as formulating emergency production plans for extreme weather, upgrading flood/typhoon resistance facilities at production bases, and optimizing logistics transportation routes to cope with extreme weather. Regarding resource guarantee methods for these actions, the Group plans to secure funding through its own operating funds, supplemented by applying for green bonds or green loans, government R&D subsidies, and energy-saving incentives. For human capital, external professional institutions are engaged to enhance internal green transformation capabilities; for institutional governance, a climate management system is established, and carbon emission reduction targets are integrated into the key performance indicators (KPIs) of all departments.

1. Product Upgrade and Technological Innovation Opportunities

The Group deeply cultivates the R&D of low-loss, high-efficiency green antenna technology, undertaking comprehensive innovation in design, manufacturing, processes, and materials around the full life cycle carbon footprint of base station antennas. It minimizes internal antenna losses and improves beam efficiency, achieving a 15-20 percentage point improvement in antenna energy efficiency ratio compared to traditional antennas, reducing carbon emissions by 11,000-20,000 tons per year per 10,000 stations under typical load: under the same input power, base station coverage expands by 15%-25%, reducing the number of sites needed by 10%-20%; under the same coverage area, RRU transmission power is reduced by 20%-35%, reducing carbon emissions by 11,000-20,000 tons per year per 10,000 stations under typical load; key KPI indicators for wireless networks are significantly improved; on the manufacturing side, electroplating-free production has been largely achieved, with a drastic reduction in solder joints. This product has gained high recognition from global customers, achieving large-scale commercial use among multiple mainstream telecom operators domestically and internationally. It will gradually replace traditional base station antennas and become the main product type for operators' antenna procurement for network construction.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

At the same time, the Group will further research higher efficiency green antenna technology platforms to further enhance customer-side carbon reduction benefits and respond to global operators' demands for green network construction. Currently, global research and exploration into the next generation of mobile communication technology, 6G, has begun. The Company's technological innovations in ultra-low loss green packaging, long-waveguide cavity structure integrated phase-shift feeding networks, and high-efficiency self-decoupling multi-frequency complex antenna radiating elements and arrays will still be applicable to Sub 6GHz band antennas in the 6G era and will contribute technically to building a green and sustainable network for 6G.

2. Market Expansion Opportunities

Carbon neutrality policies in over 100 countries and regions worldwide are driving growth in green investment in the communications industry. Leveraging its global sales network and technical service system covering the world, the Group expands its green products globally. In the domestic market, it seizes opportunities from operators' large-scale procurement of green base station antennas and energy-saving retrofits of existing network base stations. In the international market, it deepens green cooperation with local operators to further increase the market share of green antennas.

3. Operations and Supply Chain Optimization Opportunities

At the operational level, in 2025, the Guangzhou Science City and Development Zone bases generated 2.02 million kWh of green electricity, and the share of renewable energy consumption reached 12%. Through measures such as intelligent upgrades to production processes and promotion of water recycling technology, energy and water consumption per unit of output value were further reduced.

At the supply chain level, the Company can leverage its own green manufacturing experience to drive upstream and downstream enterprises in the supply chain to jointly achieve carbon reduction and build a green supply chain system. The Company will guide suppliers to strengthen green production and energy-saving renovations, promote the application of green raw materials and processes, and work with suppliers to create a low-carbon, efficient, and sustainable supply chain, while enhancing the overall green competitiveness of the supply chain and reducing its carbon footprint.

4. Green Finance and Policy Dividend Opportunities

Actively apply for green bonds, green loans, and other financing instruments for green product R&D and low-carbon production line transformation to reduce financing costs; fully utilize policy support such as R&D subsidies and energy-saving incentives from governments at all levels to enhance the return on investment for low-carbon projects.

Apart from the changes to future business operations listed above, the Group currently has no other climate-related transition plans. We will also closely monitor the progress of business-level plans related to climate change.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

Overall, climate-related opportunities are mainly concentrated in: the R&D of low-carbon products such as green antennas in the product R&D link; green procurement by domestic operators, overseas export of green products and provision of environmental and climate monitoring solutions in the marketing and sales link. The core reasons for the concentration of climate-related opportunities in these areas are: the Group has been deeply engaged in the R&D of wireless communication antenna technologies, possesses core technology patents and an R&D team, and has a first-mover technological advantage in the field of low-carbon antennas, which is the core support for opportunities in the product R&D link; global carbon neutrality policies have driven domestic and overseas operators to introduce green procurement standards, and the Group has a global sales network and customer resources.

In 2025, revenue from green antenna products and environmental climate monitoring solutions totaled HK$376 million, accounting for 8.22% of the Group's total revenue.

(III) CLIMATE-RELATED ACTION PLANS AND IMPLEMENTATION

The Group follows the principle of “short-term results, medium-term breakthroughs, long-term leadership” in formulating phased climate action plans to ensure targets are measurable and achievable:

- 1. Governance System Improvement (2025-2026)

The Board formulates climate-related strategies based on the Company's development strategy, including energy consumption substitution and product design, integrates climate risk control requirements into core business processes such as production, R&D, and supply chain, and establishes climate risk emergency plans.
- 2. Product and Technology Innovation (2025-2030)

Continuously invest in R&D for the next generation of higher efficiency green antennas and develop green antenna product series for new scenarios such as low-altitude and maritime coverage.
- 3. Operational Low-carbon Transition (2025-2030)

Optimize production operation processes, promote the application of clean energy, upgrade energy-efficient equipment, and reduce carbon emissions in production, R&D, and office activities; strengthen energy-saving renovations at the Guangzhou operations center and R&D base and global production bases, improve energy utilization efficiency, and gradually achieve carbon reduction targets in operational activities. Achieve a year-on-year reduction in electricity consumption in 2025; by 2030, reduce absolute Scope 1 and Scope 2 greenhouse gas emissions by 50% compared to the 2021 base year, and reduce absolute Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions by 25% compared to the 2021 base year.
- 4. Supply Chain Green Synergy

Improve the supplier green assessment system, strengthen green guidance for upstream and downstream enterprises in the supply chain, and promote carbon reduction among suppliers; sign green cooperation agreements with core suppliers and carry out green supply chain cooperation projects.

Continuously optimize packaging materials, continuously increase the usage rate of recyclable packaging, and achieve a year-on-year reduction in total packaging material consumption in 2025.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

5. Carbon Accounting and Disclosure

Based on ISO14064 and also meeting GHG Protocol standards, improve the Scope 1, 2, and 3 carbon emission accounting system to achieve accurate, consistent, and objective data. Since 2023, engage a third-party organization annually for carbon emission data verification.

From 2025 onwards, disclose climate-related risks, opportunities, and action plan implementation progress in detail in the ESG report annually, subject to stakeholder supervision. The Group currently does not apply carbon pricing in any operational decisions such as investment decisions, transfer pricing, or scenario analysis, nor has it set a price per tonne of greenhouse gas emissions for assessing GHG emission costs. In the future, it will actively study the feasibility of applying carbon pricing in operational decisions based on industry development and policy requirements.

Regarding greenhouse gas emission targets, the Group plans to achieve relevant targets through four main dimensions: first, product-side emission reduction, continuously researching and developing high-efficiency green antennas to reduce the full life cycle carbon footprint of products; second, operations-side emission reduction, promoting renewable energy such as distributed photovoltaics, upgrading production base equipment, increasing the proportion of renewable energy, using green and recyclable production materials, optimizing process flows, and reducing energy consumption; third, supply chain-side emission reduction, improving the supplier green assessment system, continuously increasing the proportion of green suppliers, promoting low-carbon raw materials and processes, and reducing Scope 3 carbon emissions in the supply chain; fourth, carbon accounting and control, based on ISO14064 and GHG Protocol standards, continuously improving the internal carbon inventory and accounting system and engaging third-party organizations for verification, achieving data quantification and monitoring; simultaneously, incorporating greenhouse gas emission reduction targets into the annual assessments of various business departments, with the Board regularly supervising target implementation progress and conducting an annual evaluation of emission reduction effectiveness.

(IV) CLIMATE MANAGEMENT EFFECTIVENESS AND OUTLOOK

In 2025, the Group's low-loss, high-efficiency green antennas helped customers reduce carbon emissions by over 90,000 tons. The distributed photovoltaic project generated a cumulative 2.02 million kWh of electricity, reducing carbon dioxide emissions by 1,072 tons. Currently, there are no significant climate-related risks that would lead to material adjustments in the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the relevant financial statements for the next reporting year.

The Group has established a comprehensive climate resilience management system, enhancing climate risk resistance capabilities from three aspects: operational support, supply chain synergy, and technology reserve. The implementation status of the Group's climate-related scenario analysis is as follows:

1. Input Data and Scenario Sources: Scenarios used are all sourced from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) 1.5°C warming scenario, the Hong Kong Stock Exchange's guidance on climate scenario analysis, and special research reports on climate risks in the communications industry. Input data includes historical extreme weather data for the Group's global operating sites, industry low-carbon policy iteration data, supply chain geographic risk data, and product low-carbon market demand data.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

2. Scenario Coverage Types: Covers both climate-related transition risk scenarios (policy compliance tightening scenario, market green transition acceleration scenario, low-carbon technology iteration scenario) and physical risk scenarios (frequent extreme weather scenario, single extreme weather severe impact scenario).
3. Consistency with International Agreements: The selected scenarios are all consistent with the latest climate change international agreements and regional policies, including the Paris Agreement's global carbon neutrality goals, China's "Dual Carbon" strategy, and the EU Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM).
4. Scenario Relevance Explanation: The selected scenarios align closely with the communications industry's characteristics of rapid technological iteration, globalized operations, and high dependence on infrastructure. They can accurately assess the Group's business resilience, strategic adaptability, and potential losses under climate transition and physical risks.
5. Time Frame: The scenario analysis uses short-term (1-2 years), medium-term (3-5 years), and long-term (6 years and above) time dimensions, highly matching the Group's strategic planning and product R&D cycles.
6. Operational Scope: The analysis covers all of the Group's global operating locations (Guangzhou operations center and R&D base/production bases, Singapore headquarter, Hong Kong office, Southeast Asia/Europe branches) and all core business units (R&D, production and manufacturing, marketing and sales, supply chain, logistics and transportation).
7. Key Assumptions: Assumes that future global carbon neutrality policies will continue to tighten, the scope of the EU CBAM will gradually expand, and the frequency of extreme weather events will increase compared to historical averages.
8. Reporting Period: The Group initiated comprehensive climate scenario analysis in 2025, with 2025 being the first complete reporting period.

Based on the scenario analysis results, the Group has identified the significant impacts of climate change on its strategy and business model and optimized response measures accordingly. At the operational level, it has formulated emergency plans for production interruption and data recovery plans for the Guangzhou and other key areas to ensure production and business continuity, enabling rapid response during extreme weather events such as typhoons and heavy rain to ensure operational continuity, while also assessing the necessity and feasibility of upgrading production facilities. At the supply chain level, it has established a supplier emergency reserve by identifying key suppliers in climate-vulnerable regions and developing alternative supply plans, effectively reducing the risk of supply chain disruption caused by extreme weather or transition policies.

At the technical level, it continues to reserve core low-carbon technologies such as green antennas, while simultaneously researching protective technologies for communication equipment adapted to extreme weather, enhancing product climate adaptability and strengthening climate resilience.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

Significant uncertainties considered in the Group's climate resilience assessment include:

First, policy uncertainty: The pace of implementation of global carbon neutrality policies and the specific implementation details of cross-border carbon control policies may be subject to adjustment, potentially affecting the cost and pace of the Group's low-carbon transition.

Second, market uncertainty: The speed of upgrading green procurement standards in the communications industry and the actual scale of implementation of customer low-carbon demands may fluctuate, potentially affecting the market promotion progress of green products.

Third, natural environment uncertainty: The type, scope, and severity of extreme weather events are unpredictable and may exceed the assessment scope of scenario analysis.

Fourth, technological uncertainty: The pace of breakthroughs in low-carbon technology R&D and the iteration of industry technical standards are uncertain, potentially affecting the return on investment for the Group's technology R&D.

The Group possesses core capabilities to dynamically adjust its short, medium, and long-term strategies and business models based on climate developments, specifically reflected in:

First, at the strategic level, the Board regularly reviews climate management progress and can quickly adjust the Group's low-carbon development strategy in response to climate policy and market changes, incorporating climate factors into the core considerations of medium- to long-term strategic planning.

Second, at the R&D level, the Group has a green technology R&D team that can quickly adjust the R&D direction in accordance with the trends of low-carbon technologies in the industry; meanwhile, the early layout of 6G low-carbon technologies has laid the foundation for long-term technological adjustments.

Third, at the operational level, the Group has established a cross-regional production capacity allocation mechanism and a flexible adjustment system for production processes, which can quickly optimize operational processes in accordance with extreme weather and low-carbon policy requirements, and implement initiatives such as energy-saving retrofits and renewable energy promotion;

Fourth, at the market level, the Group has a global sales network and customer cooperation system, which can adjust the market layout and sales strategies of green products in accordance with the climate policies and market demands of different regions;

Fifth, at the supply chain level, the Group has established a green supplier assessment and emergency reserve system, which can dynamically adjust the supply chain layout according to climate risks and guide upstream and downstream enterprises to carry out collaborative low-carbon transformation.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

Combined with the management strategy for climate-related risks and opportunities, the Group's financial position will gradually optimize with investment and disposal plans. The Group's core investment plans include green product R&D, renewable energy projects, low-carbon upgrades to production lines, and green supply chain construction. However, the Group currently has no significant asset disposal plans, only gradually phasing out high-carbon, inefficient traditional production equipment. Required funds are primarily sourced from the Company's own operating funds, supplemented by green financing instruments such as green bonds/loans and policy funds including R&D subsidies and energy-saving incentives from governments at all levels.

During the 2025 reporting period, climate-related risks and opportunities had specific impacts on the Group's cash flows: sales of green antenna products and environmental climate monitoring solutions led to an increase in operating cash inflow of HK$267 million; concurrently, investments in fixed facilities, environmental testing equipment, and other capital expenditures related to climate opportunities led to an increase in investing cash outflow of HK$1.67 million.

In the short term (1-2 years), the Group's investment in low-carbon initiatives will continue to increase, leading to a slight rise in operating costs. However, we believe the Group's market share of green products will gradually increase, driving steady revenue growth in the green product market. In the medium term (3-5 years), we expect to largely complete the low-carbon upgrade of traditional production capacity. The completion of these upgrades will gradually reduce operating costs, and green antennas will become a core product for the Group, significantly increasing their share of the Group's revenue, thereby significantly enhancing corporate profitability. In the long term (6 years and above), we expect our planned 6G low-carbon technologies to achieve commercialization, the overseas green product market to continue expanding, revenue scale to further increase, and the overall carbon emission cost of the Group to significantly decrease after the completion of supply chain green synergy.

Based on industry-standard SBTi criteria and the Paris Agreement's global carbon neutrality goals initiative, the Group has formulated short-term (2025-2026) and medium-term (2025-2030) climate-related core targets applicable to the entire Group. The core purpose of these targets is: based on science-based targets, to reduce the Group's full value chain greenhouse gas emissions through mitigation initiatives (low-carbon product R&D, operational emission reduction, supply chain green synergy), and to enhance the Group's resilience to climate physical risks through adaptation initiatives (extreme weather emergency plans, facility protection upgrades, supply chain emergency system construction), ultimately achieving low-carbon sustainable development aligned with the the Paris Agreement's global carbon neutrality goals. Specifically:

1. Operational Low-carbon Targets: 2025 electricity consumption year-on-year reduction; 2025 total packaging material consumption year-on-year reduction; by 2030, reduce absolute Scope 1 and Scope 2 greenhouse gas emissions by 50% compared to the 2021 base year, and reduce absolute Scope 3 greenhouse gas emissions by 25% compared to the 2021 base year.
2. Product Innovation Targets: Continuously research and develop high-efficiency green antennas, increasing the revenue share of green products.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

3. Supply Chain Green Targets: Improve the supplier green assessment system, increase the proportion of green suppliers and the share of low-carbon raw material procurement, and reduce Scope 3 carbon emissions in the supply chain.
4. Carbon Accounting Targets: Based on ISO14064 and GHG Protocol standards, continuously improve the internal Scope 1, 2, and 3 carbon inventory and accounting system and engage third-party organizations for verification, achieving data quantification and monitoring.

The core elements of the Group's greenhouse gas emission targets are disclosed as follows:

1. Greenhouse Gases Covered: Includes greenhouse gases listed in the Kyoto Protocol such as carbon dioxide (CO<sub>2</sub>), methane (CH<sub>4</sub>), and nitrous oxide (N<sub>2</sub>O), with carbon dioxide as the core accounting and reduction target.
2. Emission Scopes Covered: Simultaneously covers Scope 1 (direct greenhouse gas emissions), Scope 2 (energy indirect greenhouse gas emissions), and Scope 3 (value chain indirect greenhouse gas emissions).
3. Target Type: The Group's greenhouse gas emission target is an absolute emission reduction target. No net greenhouse gas emission target has been set. The core approach is to achieve an absolute reduction through its own emission reduction initiatives.
4. Application of Sector Decarbonization Methods: The Group's emission targets are formulated using decarbonization methods common to the communication equipment manufacturing industry, referring to the communication sector decarbonization pathway guidance and China's communication industry low-carbon development white papers, combining the Group's own business characteristics and operational realities to determine the reduction magnitude and pace.
5. Application of Carbon Credit Offsets: At this stage, the Group plans to achieve its emission targets entirely through its own low-carbon transformation, technology R&D, and operational optimization initiatives. It currently does not plan to use carbon credits to offset greenhouse gas emissions.

The Group's actual performance and trend analysis for each climate-related target in 2025 are as follows:

(I) Operational Low-carbon Targets

2025 Performance Information:

- ① Electricity consumption decreased by 0.76% year-on-year, achieving the annual consumption reduction target.
- ② Total packaging material consumption decreased by 14.39% year-on-year, achieving the annual consumption reduction target.
- ③ In 2025, absolute Scope 1, 2, and 3 greenhouse gas emissions decreased by 34.01% compared to 2024, and greenhouse gas emission density decreased by 34.62% compared to 2024.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

Trend/Change Analysis:

Trend/Change Analysis: ① Electricity consumption has shown a continuous downward trend, with a year-on-year decrease of 19% in 2024 and a further decrease of 0.76% in 2025 on this basis, mainly due to the gradual manifestation of the effects of intelligent upgrading of production processes in reducing costs and consumption; ② The consumption of packaging materials has shown a continuous downward trend, with a year-on-year decrease of 29.4% in 2024 and a further decrease of 14.39% in 2025, mainly due to the promotion and implementation of green and recyclable packaging materials, and the gradual emergence of cost and consumption reduction effects; ③ Both greenhouse gas emissions and emission intensity have shown a downward trend, mainly because the emission reduction measures for energy-saving retrofits at the operational end have been gradually implemented and taken effect. It is expected to maintain a certain emission reduction rate every year and is expected to achieve the 2030 emission reduction target as scheduled.

(II) Product and Market Targets

2025 Performance Information:

In 2025, revenue from green antenna products and environmental climate monitoring solutions totaled HK$376 million, a year-on-year increase of 280.1%.

In 2025, green product revenue accounted for 8.22% of the Group's total revenue, a 6-percentage point increase compared to the 2024 green product revenue share.

Trend/Change Analysis:

Green product revenue and share show a rapid growth trend. In 2024, the green product revenue share was 2.2%, increasing to 8.22% in 2025. This is primarily due to the implementation of green procurement standards by global operators and the improvement of the Group's global sales network layout, leading to continuously increasing market recognition of green products. It is expected that the revenue share of green products will continue to grow from 2026 to 2030, gradually becoming a core revenue segment for the Group.

(III) Supply Chain Green Targets

2025 Performance Information:

"Category 1: Purchased Goods and Services" within Scope 3 accounts for over 95% of the Company's total Scope 1, 2, and 3 emissions, making it the Company's largest emission source. In 2025, through the implementation of low-carbon management in the supply chain, significant emission reduction performance was achieved: "Category 1: Purchased Goods and Services" greenhouse gas emissions in 2025 decreased by 8.26% compared to 2024 and decreased by 25.62% compared to the base year 2021.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

Trend/Change Analysis:

The main reasons for the achievement of carbon emission reduction performance in the supply chain are:

- ① Implementation of green and low-carbon product design: equipment miniaturization and lightweight; improvement of equipment integration; enhancement of product recyclability and reusability; packaging optimization: optimization of primary packaging to reduce its size and weight, and simplification of material mixing.
- ② Supplier capacity building: Attach importance to the capacity building of suppliers themselves, carry out supplier capacity building work based on the thinking of “establishing a foundation, improving capabilities and enhancing influence”, provide them with training courses and seminars to improve their capabilities in energy conservation, consumption reduction and emission reduction practices. In 2025, suppliers with large procurement volumes and high-emission suppliers (such as PCB, active electronic materials and passive electronic materials suppliers) were selected as the key objects for emission reduction guidance;
- ③ Promote suppliers to focus on energy efficiency, adoption of renewable energy, waste reduction, etc.

These key initiatives have led to a significant decrease in greenhouse gas emissions from “Category 1: Purchased Goods and Services” (i.e., Scope 3 supply chain greenhouse gas emissions).

(IV) Carbon Accounting Targets

2025 Performance Information:

- ① Completed the full-process establishment of the Scope 1, 2, and 3 carbon emission accounting system in accordance with ISO14064 and GHG Protocol standards, achieving refined and systematic management of carbon emission data.
- ② From 2023 to 2025, engaged a third-party carbon accounting organization for carbon emission data verification for three consecutive years, with verification results meeting expectations.
- ③ Since 2025, disclosed climate-related risks, opportunities, and action plan implementation progress in detail in the ESG report.

Trend/Change Analysis:

- ① The maturity of the carbon accounting system shows a continuous improvement trend. From 2023 to 2025, the system progressed from establishment to full-process refined management, primarily due to the Group’s continuous improvement of carbon accounting systems and gradual enhancement of accounting capabilities.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND GOVERNANCE REPORT

- ② Carbon emission data disclosure shows a continuous optimization trend. From 2023 to 2025, disclosed content gradually expanded from basic emission data to full dimensions including risks, opportunities, and action plans, with disclosure transparency increasing year by year, meeting ESG disclosure requirements. Data disclosure dimensions will continue to be optimized in the future to enhance stakeholder information acquisition efficiency.

The requirements for the setting, review, and progress monitoring of the Group's climate targets are disclosed as follows:

1. Target Setting and Third-party Verification: Climate targets are jointly formulated by the Group's ESG Work Leadership Group in conjunction with external professional consultants in the climate field and third-party carbon accounting organizations. The targets themselves and the setting methodology have been verified by a third-party organization, with verification results meeting the Company's expected target requirements.
2. Target Review Procedures: The Board conducts a comprehensive review of climate targets annually, assessing the rationality and feasibility of the targets in conjunction with the results of the annual climate scenario analysis, the Group's low-carbon transition progress, and industry policy and market changes. If force majeure factors such as major climate policy adjustments or industry technological breakthroughs occur, an ad hoc review procedure will be initiated.
3. Progress Monitoring Indicators: Quantitative monitoring indicators are set for each target, including carbon emissions per unit of output value, renewable energy usage ratio, green product revenue share, total Scope 1/2/3 carbon emissions, total packaging material consumption, etc. Each indicator is incorporated into the annual KPIs of relevant business departments.
4. Target Revision Rules: If the original targets cannot be achieved due to factors such as major global climate policy adjustments, extreme market environment changes, or force majeure events, the ESG Work Leadership Group proposes a target revision plan. After re-verification by a third-party organization, the plan is submitted to the Board for review and approval before revision. After revision, the revised content, reasons for revision, and implementation plan for the new targets will be disclosed in the current ESG report.

In the future, the Group will always adhere to the development philosophy of "green, low-carbon and innovation-driven," continuously deepen climate risk management, increase investment in green technology R&D, and collaborate with customers, suppliers, and industry partners to promote carbon neutrality in the communications industry, contributing Comba's strength to global climate governance.

To the shareholders of Comba Telecom Systems Holdings Limited
(Incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

OPINION

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Comba Telecom Systems Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") set out on pages 89 to 199, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2025, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss, the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2025, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with HKFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

BASIS FOR OPINION

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSA") as issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

KEY AUDIT MATTERS

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

Key audit matter

Inventory provision

The Group is principally engaged in the research, development, manufacture and sale of wireless telecommunications network system equipment and the provision of related engineering services. Since the technology develops rapidly in the telecommunications industry, the Group's inventories are subject to significant risk of obsolescence and significant management's judgements and estimates were involved in determining the provisions against obsolete and slow-moving inventories. We focused on this area because balances of inventories were significant to the Group (11% of total assets) and inventory provision was made based on subjective estimates and was influenced by assumptions concerning future consumption.

The Group's disclosures about accounting judgements and estimates relating to and the recognition of inventory provision are included in note 3 "Significant accounting judgements and estimates" and note 6 "Profit/(loss) before tax" to the consolidated financial statements.

Impairment of trade receivables

Trade receivables comprised 29% of total assets in the consolidated statement of financial position at 31 December 2025.

The Group applied a forward-looking expected credit loss model on impairment of trade receivables. This involved judgement as the expected credit losses must reflect information about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future conditions, as well as the time value of money.

Due to the significance of trade receivables and the related estimation uncertainty, this is considered a key audit matter.

Details of the impairment of trade receivables are disclosed in note 3 "Significant accounting judgements and estimates" and note 21 "Trade receivables" to the consolidated financial statements.

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

We evaluated the sales forecasts prepared by management for the purpose of identifying slow-moving and obsolete inventories by checking, on a sample basis, the sales orders and agreements, and assessing the estimated sales by taking into account the accuracy of previous estimations, the historical evidence supporting underlying assumptions and current market conditions. We also tested, on a sample basis, the accuracy of the inventories ageing report. For the net realisable value of obsolete and slow-moving inventories identified, we checked a sample of recent sales invoices for the value.

We evaluated management's assessment on impairment of trade receivables by checking, on a sample basis, the ageing analysis and settlements made subsequent to the year-end date. For long-aged receivables, we have assessed the Group's provision by considering historical payment patterns, available information concerning the creditworthiness of the customers and any correspondence with customers on expected settlement dates which we sample tested the settlements for proper execution of such repayment schedules. For balances where a provision for impairment was recognised, we understood the rationale behind management's judgement, considering historical patterns of trading and settlement, current economic conditions and forward-looking information as well as recent communications with the counterparties.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Key audit matter

Impairment of goodwill and intangible assets

As at 31 December 2025, the Group recorded goodwill of HK$69 million and operating license in intangible assets of HK$238 million, respectively, as a result of previous acquisitions. Goodwill is subject to annual impairment testing, or more frequently if indications of impairment exist. The Company performs its annual impairment assessment on the relevant cash-generating units ("CGUs") to evaluate whether the goodwill might be impaired as at year end. In addition, the Company reviews annually whether there are any indications of impairment for intangible assets and reassesses their useful lives where applicable. The impairment assessments are highly dependent on management's significant judgements and estimates, particularly regarding future cash flows, discount rates, growth rates, and the allocation of goodwill to CGUs. Given the substantial portion of goodwill and intangible assets relates to the acquisition of a foreign operation, management has also considered the requirements under the relevant accounting standards, ensuring that these assets are measured at their respective recoverable amounts.

The accounting policies, significant accounting judgements and estimates and disclosures for goodwill are included in note 2.4 "Material accounting policies", note 3 "Significant accounting judgements and estimates" and note 14 "Goodwill" to the consolidated financial statements.

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

We examined the forecasted cash flows of the respective cash-generating units which underpinned management's impairment review. We tested the basis of preparing those forecasts taking into account the historical data supporting underlying assumptions. Future cash flow assumptions were examined through comparison with current business performance, seeking corroborative evidence and enquiry with management in respect of key growth and business assumptions. The key assumptions such as the discount rate and terminal growth rate were tested with appropriate inputs from our internal valuation experts.

With respect to the goodwill and intangible assets arising from the foreign operations in hyperinflationary economy, we have tested the recoverable amounts and compared to the amounts of respective goodwill and intangibles.

We also focused on the adequacy of the Group's disclosures of goodwill.

OTHER INFORMATION INCLUDED IN THE ANNUAL REPORT

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with HKFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the HKICPA and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

The directors of the Company are assisted by the Audit Committee in discharging their responsibilities for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Our report is made solely to you, as a body, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSA's, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Plan and perform the group audit to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business units within the Group as a basis for forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and review of the audit work performed for purposes of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with the Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is TJEN, Michael (practising certificate number: A46594).

Jiafu Investments Limited and subsidiaries which are named as Jiafu Holdings Limited and ETL Company Limited (hereafter referred to as "Jiafu Group") is principally engaged in provision of operator telecommunication services in Lao People's Democratic Republic ("Lao P.D.R."). During the fourth quarter of 2024, the International Monetary Fund World Economic Outlook ("IMF WEO") reported a 3-year cumulative rate of inflation of 82% as of December 2023 and forecast 3-year cumulative rates of inflation of between 99% and 159% for years ending between 2024 and 2027. The Lao Statistics Bureau reported 3-year and 12-month cumulative rates of inflation of 105% and 22%, respectively, as of September 2024. Based on the then level of inflation and its then expected rise, the directors believe that Lao P.D.R. should be considered hyperinflationary as of 31 December 2024. During September 2025, the IMF WEO reported a 3-year cumulative rate of inflation of 102% as of December 2024 and forecast 3-year cumulative rates of inflation of 52% and 30% for 2025 and 2026, respectively. The Lao Statistics Bureau reported 3-year and 12-month cumulative rates of inflation of 60% and 5%, respectively, as of September 2025. The highly inflationary patterns that occurred in 2022 and 2023 are no longer present and both the annual rate and forecast rate of inflation have come down consistently. Therefore, the directors believe that economy of Lao P.D.R. is no longer hyperinflationary state.

The above table lists the subsidiaries of the Company which, in the opinion of the directors of the Company, principally affected the results for the year or formed a substantial portion of the net assets of the Group. To give details of other subsidiaries would, in the opinion of the directors of the Company, result in particulars of excessive length.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

31 December 2025

2.1 BASIS OF PREPARATION

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with HKFRS Accounting Standards (which include all Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, Hong Kong Accounting Standards (“HKASs”) and Interpretations) as issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”), and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for certain buildings classified as property, plant and equipment, redeemable preferred shares in a subsidiary, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and equity investments which have been measured at fair value. Based on management’s assessment, the Lao P.D.R. is no longer considered hyperinflationary, following a cumulative inflation rate of 60% over the preceding three years as of September 2025. The hyperinflationary accounting treatment is no longer applicable for reporting periods ending on or after 1 January 2025. These financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand except when otherwise indicated.

BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2025. A subsidiary is an entity (including a structured entity), directly or indirectly, controlled by the Company. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee (i.e., existing rights that give the Group the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee).

Generally, there is a presumption that a majority of voting rights results in control. When the Company has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- (a) the contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee;
- (b) rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- (c) the Group’s voting rights and potential voting rights.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company, using consistent accounting policies. The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the parent of the Group and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control described above. A change in the ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction.

If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises the related assets (including goodwill), liabilities, any non-controlling interest and the exchange fluctuation reserve; and recognises the fair value of any investment retained and any resulting surplus or deficit in profit or loss. The Group's share of components previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss or retained profits, as appropriate, on the same basis as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

2.2 CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DISCLOSURES

The Group has adopted amendments to HKAS 21 Lack of Exchangeability for the first time for the current year's financial statements. The Group has not early adopted any other standard or amendment that has been issued but is not yet effective.

Amendments to HKAS 21 specify how an entity shall assess whether a currency is exchangeable into another currency and how it shall estimate a spot exchange rate at a measurement date when exchangeability is lacking. The amendments require disclosures of information that enable users of financial statements to understand the impact of a currency not being exchangeable. As the currencies that the Group had transacted in and the functional currencies of overseas subsidiaries, branches and joint ventures for translation into the Group's presentation currency were exchangeable, the amendments did not have any impact on the Group's financial statements.

2.3 ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE HKFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

The Group has not applied the following new and amended HKFRS Accounting Standards, that have been issued but are not yet effective, in these financial statements. The Group intends to apply these new and amended HKFRS Accounting Standards, if applicable, when they become effective.

HKFRS 18	Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements<sup>2</sup>
HKFRS 19 and its amendments	Subsidiaries without Public Accountability: Disclosures<sup>2</sup>
Amendments to HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 7	Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments<sup>1</sup>

Amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28	Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture<sup>3</sup>
Amendments to HKAS 21	Translation to a Hyperinflationary Presentation Currency<sup>2</sup>
Annual Improvements to HKFRS Accounting Standards – Volume 11	Amendments to HKFRS 1, HKFRS 7, HKFRS 9, HKFRS 10 and HKAS 7<sup>1</sup>

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

31 December 2025

2.3 ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE HKFRS ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

Further information about those HKFRS Accounting Standards that are expected to be applicable to the Group is described below.

HKFRS 18 replaces HKAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements. While a number of sections have been brought forward from HKAS 1 with limited changes, HKFRS 18 introduces new requirements for presentation within the statement of profit or loss, including specified totals and subtotals. Entities are required to classify all income and expenses within the statement of profit or loss into one of the five categories: operating, investing, financing, income taxes and discontinued operations and to present two new defined subtotals. It also requires disclosures about management-defined performance measures in a single note and introduces enhanced requirements on the grouping (aggregation and disaggregation) and the location of information in both the primary financial statements and the notes. Some requirements previously included in HKAS 1 are moved to HKAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, which is renamed as HKAS 8 Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements. As a consequence of the issuance of HKFRS 18, limited, but widely applicable, amendments are made to HKAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows, HKAS 33 Earnings per Share and HKAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting. In addition, there are minor consequential amendments to other HKFRS Accounting Standards. HKFRS 18 and the consequential amendments to other HKFRS Accounting Standards are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2027 with earlier application permitted. Retrospective application is required. The Group is currently analysing the new requirements and assessing the impact of HKFRS 18 on the presentation and disclosure of the Group's financial statements.

HKFRS 19 allows eligible entities to elect to apply reduced disclosure requirements while still applying the recognition, measurement and presentation requirements in other HKFRS Accounting Standards. To be eligible, at the end of the reporting period, an entity must be a subsidiary as defined in HKFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements, cannot have public accountability and must have a parent (ultimate or intermediate) that prepares consolidated financial statements available for public use which comply with HKFRS Accounting Standards. HKFRS 19 was amended in April 2025 to include IFRS Accounting Standards in the eligibility criteria for applying the standard. The standard was further amended in October 2025 to (i) remove disclosure objectives from HKFRS 19; (ii) reduce the disclosure requirements relating to supplier finance arrangements and a specific class of financial liabilities; and (iii) replace disclosure requirements relating to management-defined performance measures with a cross-reference to HKFRS 18 for entities that use these measures. Earlier application is permitted. As the Company is a listed company, it is not eligible to elect to apply HKFRS 19 and its amendments. Some of the Company's subsidiaries are considering the application of HKFRS 19 and its amendments in their specified financial statements.

Amendments to HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 7 Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments clarify the date on which a financial asset or financial liability is derecognised and introduce an accounting policy option to derecognise a financial liability that is settled through an electronic payment system before the settlement date if specified criteria are met. The amendments clarify how to assess the contractual cash flow characteristics of financial assets with environmental, social and governance and other similar contingent features. Moreover, the amendments clarify the requirements for classifying financial assets with non-recourse features and contractually linked instruments. The amendments also include additional disclosures for investments in equity instruments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial instruments with contingent features. The amendments shall be applied retrospectively with an adjustment to opening retained profits (or other component of equity) at the initial application date. Prior periods are not required to be restated and can only be restated without the use of hindsight. Earlier application of either all the amendments at the same time or only the amendments related to the classification of financial assets is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Amendments to HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 7 Contracts Referencing Nature-dependent Electricity clarify the application of the "own-use" requirements for in-scope contracts and amend the designation requirements for a hedged item in a cash flow hedging relationship for in-scope contracts. The amendments also include additional disclosures that enable users of financial statements to understand the effects these contracts have on an entity's financial performance and future cash flows. The amendments relating to the own-use exception shall be applied retrospectively. Prior periods are not required to be restated and can only be restated without the use of hindsight. The amendments relating to the hedge accounting shall be applied prospectively to new hedging relationships designated on or after the date of the initial application. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments to HKFRS 9 and HKFRS 7 shall be applied at the same time. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28 address an inconsistency between the requirements in HKFRS 10 and in HKAS 28 in dealing with the sale or contribution of assets between an investor and its associate or joint venture. The amendments require a full recognition of a gain or loss resulting from a downstream transaction when the sale or contribution of assets constitutes a business. For a transaction involving assets that do not constitute a business, a gain or loss resulting from the transaction is recognised in the investor's profit or loss only to the extent of the unrelated investor's interest in that associate or joint venture. The amendments are to be applied prospectively. The previous mandatory effective date of amendments to HKFRS 10 and HKAS 28 was removed by the HKICPA. However, the amendments are available for adoption now.

Amendments to HKAS 21 Translation to a Hyperinflationary Presentation Currency require the translation from a non-hyperinflationary functional currency into a hyperinflationary presentation currency at the closing rate. The amendments also require an entity whose functional currency and presentation currency are the currency of a hyperinflationary economy to restate the comparative amounts of a foreign operation whose functional currency is that of a non-hyperinflationary economy, by applying the general price index, in accordance with paragraph 34 of HKAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies, to the foreign operation's comparative figures. The amendments introduce certain additional disclosures. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.

Annual Improvements to HKFRS Accounting Standards – Volume 11 set out amendments to HKFRS 1, HKFRS 7 (and the accompanying Guidance on implementing HKFRS 7), HKFRS 9, HKFRS 10 and HKAS 7. Details of the amendments that are expected to be applicable to the Group are as follows:

- HKFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures: The amendments have updated certain wording in paragraph B38 of HKFRS 7 and paragraphs IG1, IG14 and IG20B of the Guidance on implementing HKFRS 7 for the purpose of simplification or achieving consistency with other paragraphs in the standard and/or with the concepts and terminology used in other standards. In addition, the amendments clarify that the Guidance on implementing HKFRS 7 does not necessarily illustrate all the requirements in the referenced paragraphs of HKFRS 7 nor does it create additional requirements. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.
- HKFRS 9 Financial Instruments: The amendments clarify that when a lessee has determined that a lease liability has been extinguished in accordance with HKFRS 9, the lessee is required to apply paragraph 3.3.3 of HKFRS 9 and recognise any resulting gain or loss in profit or loss. However, the amendments do not address how a lessee distinguishes between a lease modification as defined in HKFRS 16 and an extinguishment of a lease liability in accordance with HKFRS 9. In addition, the amendments have updated certain wording in paragraph 5.1.3 of HKFRS 9 and Appendix A of HKFRS 9 to remove potential confusion. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.
- HKFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements: The amendments clarify that the relationship described in paragraph B74 of HKFRS 10 is just one example of various relationships that might exist between the investor and other parties acting as de facto agents of the investor, which removes the inconsistency with the requirement in paragraph B73 of HKFRS 10. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements.
- HKAS 7 Statement of Cash Flows: The amendments replace the term “cost method” with “at cost” in paragraph 37 of HKAS 7 following the prior deletion of the definition of “cost method”. Earlier application is permitted. The amendments are not expected to have any impact on the Group's financial statements.

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

INVESTMENTS IN ASSOCIATES AND JOINT VENTURES

An associate is an entity in which the Group has a long-term interest of generally not less than 20% of the equity voting rights and over which it has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a type of joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint venture. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require the unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The Group's investments in associates and joint ventures are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses.

The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and other comprehensive income of associates and joint ventures is included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and consolidated other comprehensive income, respectively. In addition, when there has been a change recognised directly in the equity of the associate or joint venture, the Group recognises its share of any changes, when applicable, in the consolidated statement of changes in equity. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates or joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Group's investments in the associates or joint ventures, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the assets transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of associates or joint ventures is included as part of the Group's investments in associates or joint ventures.

If an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or vice versa, the retained interest is not remeasured. Instead, the investment continues to be accounted for under the equity method. In all other case, Upon loss of significant influence over the associate or joint control over the joint venture, the Group measures and recognises any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture upon loss of significant influence or joint control and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognised in profit or loss.

When an investment in an associate or a joint venture is classified as held for sale, it is accounted for in accordance with HKFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations.

BUSINESS COMBINATIONS AND GOODWILL

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred is measured at the acquisition date fair value which is the sum of the acquisition date fair values of assets transferred by the Group, liabilities assumed by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. For each business combination, the Group elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. All other components of non-controlling interests are measured at fair value. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

The Group determines that it has acquired a business when the acquired set of activities and assets includes an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs.

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts of the acquiree.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the previously held equity interest is remeasured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not remeasured and subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred, the amount recognised for non-controlling interests and any fair value of the Group's previously held equity interests in the acquiree over the identifiable net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the sum of this consideration and other items is lower than the fair value of the net assets acquired, the difference is, after reassessment, recognised in profit or loss as a gain on bargain purchase.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired. The Group performs its annual impairment test of goodwill as at 31 December. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the Group are assigned to those units or groups of units.

Impairment is determined by assessing the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the operation disposed of is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on the disposal. Goodwill disposed of in these circumstances is measured based on the relative value of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

The Group measures its redeemable preferred shares in a subsidiary, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and equity investments at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either in the principal market for the asset or liability, or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Group. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 – based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 – based on valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is observable, either directly or indirectly
- Level 3 – based on valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by reassessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

IMPAIRMENT OF NON-FINANCIAL ASSETS

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for non-financial asset is required (other than inventories, deferred tax assets), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs of disposal, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, a portion of the carrying amount of a corporate asset (e.g., a headquarters building) is allocated to an individual cash-generating unit if it can be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis or, otherwise, to the smallest group of cash-generating units.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it arises, unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is accounted for in accordance with the relevant accounting policy for that revalued asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of an asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, but not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation) had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of such an impairment loss is credited to profit or loss in the period in which it arises, unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is accounted for in accordance with the relevant accounting policy for that revalued asset.

PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT AND DEPRECIATION

Property, plant and equipment, other than construction in progress are stated at cost or valuation less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use.

Expenditure incurred after items of property, plant and equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, is normally charged to profit or loss in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where the recognition criteria are satisfied, the expenditure for a major inspection is capitalised in the carrying amount of the asset as a replacement. Where significant parts of property, plant and equipment are required to be replaced at intervals, the Group recognises such parts as individual assets with specific useful lives and depreciates them accordingly.

Valuations are performed frequently enough to ensure that the fair value of a revalued asset does not differ materially from its carrying amount. Changes in the values of property, plant and equipment are dealt with as movements in the asset revaluation reserve. If the total of this reserve is insufficient to cover a deficit, on an individual asset basis, the excess of the deficit is charged to profit or loss. Any subsequent revaluation surplus is credited to profit or loss to the extent of the deficit previously charged. An annual transfer from the asset revaluation reserve to retained profits is made for the difference between the depreciation based on the revalued carrying amount of an asset and the depreciation based on the asset's original cost. On disposal of a revalued asset, the relevant portion of the asset revaluation reserve realised in respect of previous valuations is transferred to retained profits as a movement in reserves.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis to write off the cost of each item of property, plant and equipment to its residual value over its estimated useful life. The principal annual rates used for this purpose are as follows:

Freehold land	Not depreciated
Buildings	4.5%
Staff quarters	4.5%
Plant and machinery	9%-20%
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	10%-30%
Motor vehicles	18%-20%

Buildings are stated at valuation less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses except for staff quarters. Staff quarters are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost or valuation of that item is allocated on a reasonable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately. Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at least at each financial year end.

An item of property, plant and equipment including any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement recognised in profit or loss in the year the asset is derecognised is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant asset.

Construction in progress is stated at cost less any impairment losses, and is not depreciated. It is reclassified to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS (OTHER THAN GOODWILL)

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is the fair value at the date of acquisition. The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are subsequently amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each financial year end.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. Such intangible assets are not amortised. The useful life of an intangible asset with an indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether the indefinite life assessment continues to be supportable. If not, the change in the useful life assessment from indefinite to finite is accounted for on a prospective basis.

Computer software and technology

The purchased computer software and technology are stated at cost less any impairment losses and are amortised on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 3 to 10 years.

Golf club membership

Golf club membership with an indefinite useful life is tested for impairment annually. Such intangible asset is not amortised. The useful life is reviewed at the end of each reporting period to determine whether events and circumstances continue to support an indefinite useful life assessment for that asset.

Operating license

Operating license is stated at cost less any impairment loss and is amortised on the straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 25 years.

Research and development expenses

All research costs are charged to profit or loss as incurred.

Expenditure incurred on projects to develop new products is capitalised and deferred only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the project and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure during the development. Product development expenditure which does not meet these criteria is expensed when incurred.

Deferred development costs are stated at cost less any impairment losses and are amortised using the straight-line basis over the commercial lives of the underlying products not exceeding three years, commencing from the date when the products are put into commercial production.

LEASES

The Group assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a lessee

The Group applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

(a) Right-of-use assets

Right-of-use assets are recognised at the commencement date of the lease (that is the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease terms and the estimated useful lives of the assets as follows:

Prepaid land lease payments	50 years
Buildings	More than 1 to 10 years
Telecom towers and other equipment	More than 1 to 10 years

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the Group by the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset.

(b) Lease liabilities

Lease liabilities are recognised at the commencement date of the lease at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group and payments of penalties for termination of a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate the lease. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as an expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in lease payments (e.g., a change to future lease payments resulting from a change in an index or rate) or a change in assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

The Group's lease liabilities are included in lease liabilities and other payables and accruals.

LEASES (continued)

(c) Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases (that is those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option). It also applies the recognition exemption for leases of low-value assets to leases that are considered to be of low value.

Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Group as a lessor

When the Group acts as a lessor, it classifies at lease inception (or when there is a lease modification) each of its leases as either an operating lease or a finance lease.

Leases in which the Group does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. When a contract contains lease and non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each component on a relative stand-alone selling price basis. Rental income is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease term and is included in revenue in profit or loss due to its operating nature. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

Leases that transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to the lessee are accounted for as finance leases.

INVESTMENTS AND OTHER FINANCIAL ASSETS

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets are classified, at initial recognition, as subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income, and fair value through profit or loss.

The classification of financial assets at initial recognition depends on the financial asset's contractual cash flow characteristics and the Group's business model for managing them. With the exception of trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient of not adjusting the effect of a significant financing component, the Group initially measures a financial asset at its fair value, plus in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs. Trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component or for which the Group has applied the practical expedient are measured at the transaction price determined under HKFRS 15 in accordance with the policies set out for "Revenue recognition" below.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

INVESTMENTS AND OTHER FINANCIAL ASSETS (continued)

In order for a financial asset to be classified and measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income, it needs to give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (“SPPI”) on the principal amount outstanding. Financial assets with cash flows that are not SPPI are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss, irrespective of the business model.

The Group's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both. Financial assets classified and measured at amortised cost are held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, while financial assets classified and measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are held within a business model with the objective of both holding to collect contractual cash flows and selling. Financial assets which are not held within the aforementioned business models are classified and measured at fair value through profit or loss.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the marketplace are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial assets depends on their classification as follows:

Financial assets at amortised cost (debt instruments)

Financial assets at amortised cost are subsequently measured using the effective interest method and are subject to impairment. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised, modified or impaired.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (equity investments)

Upon initial recognition, the Group can elect to classify irrevocably its equity investments as equity investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income when they meet the definition of equity under HKAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation and are not held for trading. The classification is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Gains and losses on these financial assets are never recycled to profit or loss. Dividends are recognised as other income in profit or loss when the right of payment has been established, except when the Group benefits from such proceeds as a recovery of part of the cost of the financial asset, in which case such gains are recorded in other comprehensive income. Equity investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income are not subject to impairment assessment.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with net changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

This category includes derivative instruments and equity investments which the Group had not irrevocably elected to classify at fair value through other comprehensive income. Dividends on the equity investments are also recognised as other income in profit or loss when the right of payment has been established.

A derivative embedded in a hybrid contract, with a financial liability or non-financial host, is separated from the host and accounted for as a separate derivative if the economic characteristics and risks are not closely related to the host; a separate instrument with the same terms as the embedded derivative would meet the definition of a derivative; and the hybrid contract is not measured at fair value through profit or loss. Embedded derivatives are measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss. Reassessment only occurs if there is either a change in the terms of the contract that significantly modifies the cash flows that would otherwise be required or a reclassification of a financial asset out of the fair value through profit or loss category.

A derivative embedded within a hybrid contract containing a financial asset host is not accounted for separately. The financial asset host together with the embedded derivative is required to be classified in its entirety as a financial asset at fair value through profit or loss.

DERECOGNITION OF FINANCIAL ASSETS

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised when:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or
- the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a “pass-through” arrangement; and either (a) the Group has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risk and rewards of ownership of the asset. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Group’s continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Group could be required to repay.

IMPAIRMENT OF FINANCIAL ASSETS

The Group recognises an allowance for expected credit losses (“ECLs”) for all debt instruments not held at fair value through profit or loss. ECLs are based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at an approximation of the original effective interest rate. The expected cash flows will include cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms.

General approach

ECLs are recognised in two stages. For credit exposures for which there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, ECLs are provided for credit losses that result from default events that are possible within the next 12 months (a 12-month ECL). For those credit exposures for which there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, a loss allowance is required for credit losses expected over the remaining life of the exposure, irrespective of the timing of the default (a lifetime ECL).

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether the credit risk on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. When making the assessment, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition and considers reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort, including historical and forward-looking information.

The Group considers a financial asset in default when contractual payments are 90 days past due, except for certain customers which are granted with a longer credit term. However, in certain cases, the Group may also consider a financial asset to be in default when internal or external information indicates that the Group is unlikely to receive the outstanding contractual amounts in full before taking into account any credit enhancements held by the Group.

A financial asset is written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the contractual cash flows.

Debt investments at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial assets at amortised cost are subject to impairment under the general approach and they are classified within the following stages for measurement of ECLs except for trade receivables and contract assets which apply the simplified approach as detailed below.

- Stage 1 – Financial instruments for which credit risk has not increased significantly since initial recognition and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to 12-month ECLs
- Stage 2 – Financial instruments for which credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition but that are not credit-impaired financial assets and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs
- Stage 3 – Financial assets that are credit-impaired at the reporting date (but that are not purchased or originated credit-impaired) and for which the loss allowance is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs

Simplified approach

For trade receivables and contract assets that do not contain a significant financing component or when the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the effect of a significant financing component, the Group applies the simplified approach in calculating ECLs. Under the simplified approach, the Group does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date. The Group has established a provision matrix that is based on its historical credit loss experience, adjusted for forward-looking factors specific to the debtors and the economic environment.

For trade receivables and contract assets that contain a significant financing component and lease receivables, the Group chooses as its accounting policy to adopt the simplified approach in calculating ECLs with policies as described above.

FINANCIAL LIABILITIES

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as loans and other borrowings, financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and payables.

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Group's financial liabilities include trade payables, other payables, interest-bearing bank and other borrowings, lease liabilities and redeemable preferred shares in a subsidiary.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification as follows:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss are designated at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in HKFRS 9 are satisfied. Gains or losses on liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in profit or loss, except for the gains or losses arising from the Group's own credit risk which are presented in other comprehensive income with no subsequent reclassification to profit or loss. The net fair value gain or loss recognised in profit or loss does not include any interest charged on these financial liabilities. The Group has designated its redeemable preferred shares in a subsidiary as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost (trade and other payables, lease liabilities and borrowings)

After initial recognition, trade and other payables, and interest-bearing borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the effective interest rate amortisation process.

Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. The effective interest rate amortisation is included in finance costs in profit or loss.

Financial guarantee contracts

Financial guarantee contracts issued by the Group are those contracts that require a payment to be made to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because the specified debtor fails to make a payment when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument. A financial guarantee contract is recognised initially as a liability at its fair value, adjusted for transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issuance of the guarantee. Subsequent to initial recognition, the Group measures the financial guarantee contracts at the higher of: (i) the ECL allowance determined in accordance with the policy as set out in "Impairment of financial assets; and (ii) the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, the cumulative amount of income recognised.

DERECOGNITION OF FINANCIAL LIABILITIES

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in profit or loss.

OFFSETTING OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

TREASURY SHARES

Own equity instruments which are reacquired and held by the Group (treasury shares) are recognised directly in equity at cost. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Group's own equity instruments.

INVENTORIES

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on the weighted average basis and, in the case of work in progress and finished goods, comprises direct materials, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of overheads. Net realisable value is based on estimated selling prices less any estimated costs to be incurred to completion and disposal.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

Cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial position comprise cash on hand and at banks, and short-term highly liquid deposits with a maturity of generally within three months that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash, subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value and held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash Commitments.

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and at banks, and short-term deposits as defined above, less bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group's cash management.

PROVISIONS

A provision is recognised when a present obligation (legal or constructive) has arisen as a result of a past event and it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, provided that a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

When the Group expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, for example, under an insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in profit or loss net of any reimbursement.

When the effect of discounting is material, the amount recognised for a provision is the present value at the end of the reporting period of the future expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. The increase in the discounted present value amount arising from the passage of time is included in finance costs in profit or loss.

The Group provides for warranties in relation to the sale of certain industrial products and the provision of construction services for general repairs of defects occurring during the warranty period. Provisions for these assurance-type warranties granted by the Group are initially recognised based on sales volume and past experience of the level of repairs and returns, discounted to their present values as appropriate. The warranty – related cost is revised annually.

INCOME TAX

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss, either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period, taking into consideration interpretations and practices prevailing in the countries in which the Group operates.

Deferred tax is provided, using the liability method, on all temporary differences at the end of the reporting period between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- when the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences; and
- in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary differences arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences; and
- in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

INCOME TAX (continued)

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at the end of each reporting period and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if and only if the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities which intend either to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, in each future period in which significant amounts of deferred tax liabilities or assets are expected to be settled or recovered.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS

Government grants are recognised at their fair value where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attaching conditions will be complied with. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis over the periods that the costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed.

Where the grant relates to an asset, the fair value is credited to a deferred income account and is released to profit or loss over the expected useful life of the relevant asset by equal annual instalments or deducted from the carrying amount of the asset and released to profit or loss by way of a reduced depreciation charge.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of goods or services is transferred to the customers at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

When the consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the amount of consideration is estimated to which the Group will be entitled in exchange for transferring the goods or services to the customer. The variable consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur when the associated uncertainty with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

When the contract contains a financing component which provides the customer with a significant benefit of financing the transfer of goods or services to the customer for more than one year, revenue is measured at the present value of the amount receivable, discounted using the discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. When the contract contains a financing component which provides the Group with a significant financial benefit for more than one year, revenue recognised under the contract includes the interest expense accreted on the contract liability under the effective interest method. For a contract where the period between the payment by the customer and the transfer of the promised goods or services is one year or less, the transaction price is not adjusted for the effects of a significant financing component, using the practical expedient in HKFRS 15.

(a) Sale of goods and related installation

Revenue from the sale of goods and related installation is recognised at the point in time when control of the asset is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery of the goods and related installation.

(b) Operator telecommunication services

Revenue is measured at the transaction price which is the amount of consideration to which the Group entitled in exchange for transferring promised services to the customer. For offerings which included the provision of multiple performance obligations, such as telecommunications services (such as voice and data services), telecommunication related products (such as handsets), customer point rewards and/or other promotional goods/services, the Group allocates the transaction price received/receivable from customers to each performance obligation based on the relative stand-alone selling prices.

Revenue for each performance obligation is then recognised when the Group satisfies the performance obligation by transferring the promised services to a customer. Revenue is recognised when the customer obtains the control of the telecommunications services over the time of provision of the services. Revenue from the sale of telecommunication related products is recognised at the point in time when control of the asset is transferred to the customer, generally on delivery of the products.

(c) Technical support and maintenance services

Revenue from the technical support and maintenance services is recognised over the scheduled period on a straight-line basis because the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group.

Revenue from other sources

Rental income is recognised on a time proportion basis over the lease terms. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as income in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

Other income

Interest income is recognised on an accrual basis using the effective interest method by applying the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, when appropriate, to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Dividend income is recognised when the shareholders' right to receive payment has been established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

CONTRACT LIABILITIES

A contract liability is recognised when a payment is received or a payment is due (whichever is earlier) from a customer before the Group transfers the related goods or services. Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Group performs under the contract (i.e., transfers control of the related goods or services to the customer).

SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS

The Company operates a share option scheme and share award scheme. Employees (including directors) of the Group receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services in exchange for equity instruments ("equity-settled transactions"). The cost of equity-settled transactions with employees for grants is measured by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined by an external valuer using a binomial model.

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised in employee benefit expense, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at the end of each reporting period until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The charge or credit to profit or loss for a period represents the movement in the cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period.

Service and non-market performance conditions are not taken into account when determining the grant date fair value of awards, but the likelihood of the conditions being met is assessed as part of the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. Market performance conditions are reflected within the grant date fair value. Any other conditions attached to an award, but without an associated service requirement, are considered to be non-vesting conditions. Non-vesting conditions are reflected in the fair value of an award and lead to an immediate expensing of an award unless there are also service and/or performance conditions.

For awards that do not ultimately vest because non-market performance and/or service conditions have not been met, no expense is recognised. Where awards include a market or non-vesting condition, the transactions are treated as vesting irrespective of whether the market or non-vesting condition is satisfied, provided that all other performance and/or service conditions are satisfied.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS (continued)

Where the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, as a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified, if the original terms of the award are met. In addition, an expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payments, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee as measured at the date of modification.

Where an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognised for the award is recognised immediately. This includes any award where non-vesting conditions within the control of either the Group or the employee are not met. However, if a new award is substituted for the cancelled award, and is designated as a replacement award on the date that it is granted, the cancelled and new awards are treated as if they were a modification of the original award, as described in the previous paragraph.

The dilutive effect of outstanding equity-settled awards is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of earnings per share.

A liability is recognised for the fair value of cash-settled transactions. The fair value is measured initially at the grant date and at each reporting date up to and including the settlement date using the Black-Scholes formula. The fair value is expensed over the period until the vesting date with recognition of a corresponding liability. The cumulative expense recognised for cash-settled transactions at the end of each reporting period until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of awards that will ultimately vest.

OTHER EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Pension schemes

The Group operates a defined contribution Mandatory Provident Fund retirement benefit scheme (the "MPF Scheme") under the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance for those employees who are eligible to participate in the MPF Scheme. Contributions are made based on a percentage of the employees' basic salaries and are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme. The assets of the MPF Scheme are held separately from those of the Group in an independently administered fund. The Group's employer contributions vest fully with the employees when contributed into the MPF Scheme.

The employees of the Group's subsidiaries which operate in Chinese mainland are required to participate in a central pension scheme operated by the local municipal government. These PRC subsidiaries are required to contribute a certain percentage of their payroll costs to the central pension scheme. The contributions are charged to profit or loss as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the central pension scheme.

BORROWING COSTS

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, i.e., assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. The capitalisation of such borrowing costs ceases when the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

EVENTS AFTER THE REPORTING PERIOD

If the Group receives information after the reporting period, but prior to the date of authorisation for issue, about conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, it will assess whether the information affects the amounts that it recognises in its financial statements. The Group will adjust the amounts recognised in its financial statements to reflect any adjusting events after the reporting period and update the disclosures that relate to those conditions in light of the new information. For non-adjusting events after the reporting period, the Group will not change the amounts recognised in its financial statements, but will disclose the nature of the non-adjusting events and an estimate of their financial effects, or a statement that such an estimate cannot be made, if applicable.

DIVIDENDS

Final dividends are recognised as a liability when they are approved by the shareholders in a general meeting. Proposed final dividends are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements. Interim dividends are simultaneously proposed and declared, because the Company's memorandum and articles of association grant the directors the authority to declare interim dividends. Consequently, interim dividends are recognised immediately as a liability when they are proposed and declared.

FOREIGN CURRENCIES (NON-HYPERINFLATIONARY)

These financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars, which is the Company's functional currency. Each entity in the Group determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Foreign currency transactions recorded by the entities in the Group are initially recorded using their respective functional currency rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency rates of exchange ruling at the end of the reporting period. Differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOREIGN CURRENCIES (NON-HYPERINFLATIONARY) (continued)

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was measured. The gain or loss arising on translation of a non-monetary item measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation difference on the item whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in other comprehensive income or profit or loss is also recognised in other comprehensive income or profit or loss, respectively).

In determining the exchange rate on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to an advance consideration, the date of initial transaction is the date on which the Group initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, the Group determines the transaction date for each payment or receipt of the advance consideration.

The results of foreign operations whose functional currency is the currency of a non-hyperinflationary economy are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the exchange rates approximating the foreign exchange rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Statement of financial position items are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the closing foreign exchange rates at the end of the reporting period. The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the exchange reserve.

The resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the exchange fluctuation reserve, except to the extent that the differences are attributable to non-controlling interests. On disposal of a foreign operation, the cumulative amount in the reserve relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in profit or loss.

Any goodwill arising on the acquisition of a foreign operation and any fair value adjustments to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities arising on acquisition are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the closing rate.

For the purpose of the consolidated statement of cash flows, the cash flows of overseas subsidiaries are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the exchange rates ruling at the dates of the cash flows. Frequently recurring cash flows of overseas subsidiaries which arise throughout the year are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the weighted average exchange rates for the year.

2.4 MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

FOREIGN CURRENCIES (HYPERINFLATIONARY)

The results of foreign operations whose functional currency is the currency of a hyperinflationary economy applies hyperinflation accounting in accordance with HKAS 29.

- For non-monetary items, those presented in the measurement unit of the balance sheet date are not restated. Other non-monetary items are restated by adjusting historical costs and accumulated depreciation (or amortisation) from the acquisition date based on changes in the general price index. Non-monetary assets measured at fair value as of the balance sheet date are stated at their fair value on that date.
- For profit and loss statement items, all amounts are restated from their initial recognition date using changes in the general price index to ensure all items are expressed in the measurement unit of the balance sheet date. Differences arising from such restatements are recognised in the current period's net profit. All cash flow statement items are restated in accordance with the general price index of the balance sheet date.
- A gain or loss on the net monetary position may be derived as the difference resulting from the restatement of non-monetary assets, owners' equity and items in the statement of comprehensive income and the adjustment of index linked assets and liabilities. Such gain or loss is included in profit or loss.
- The restated amount of a non-monetary item should not exceed its recoverable amount, when an impairment is assessed.
- A parent that consolidates the subsidiary(ies) whose function currency is of hyperinflationary economy, the financial statements of such subsidiary(ies) need to be restated by applying a general price index of the country in whose currency it reports before they are included in the consolidated financial statements issued by the parent. Where such a subsidiary is a foreign subsidiary, its restated financial statements are translated at closing rates.

When the economy ceases to be hyperinflationary, the Group will discontinue the application of hyperinflation accounting and the amounts presented in the measuring unit current at the end of the previous reporting period will become the basis for the carrying amounts in its subsequent financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of the Group's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and their accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that could require a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of the assets or liabilities affected in the future.

JUDGEMENTS

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, management has made the following judgements, apart from those involving estimations, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements:

Revenue recognition

Performance obligation at a point in time

For performance obligations of the Group such as the sale of goods and related installation are not distinct from each other, as: (a) the customer is unable to receive and consume the benefits provided by the Group's performance; (b) the Group's performance does not create or enhance an asset (e.g., work in progress) that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced; and (c) the Group does not have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. Hence, such performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time. Specifically, revenue of those performance obligations is recognised upon acceptance by the customers after the respective performance obligations are satisfied.

Hyperinflation

The Group has applied significant judgement in determining whether an entity is beginning to be in a hyperinflationary economy and whether the functional currency of its subsidiaries is the currency of the hyperinflationary economy.

When determining whether a country is in a hyperinflationary economy, the Group considers the characteristics of its economic environment, including but not limited to:

- The general population prefers to keep its wealth in non-monetary assets or in relatively stable foreign currencies. Amounts of local currency held are immediately invested to maintain purchasing power.
- The general population regards monetary amounts not in terms of the local currency but in terms of a relatively stable foreign currency. Prices may be quoted in that currency.
- Sales and purchases on credit take place at prices that compensate for the expected loss of purchasing power during credit period, even if the period is short.
- Interest rates, wages and prices linked to a price index.
- Cumulative inflation rate over three years is approaching, or exceeds, 100%.

Hyperinflation (continued)

Based on management's assessment, the economy of Lao P.D.R. is considered as no longer hyperinflationary as of September 2025 as the cumulative inflation rate in the past three years of inflation of 60%. The economy of Lao P.D.R ceased to be hyperinflationary for periods ending after 31 December 2024.

HKAS 29 requires to report the results of its operations in Lao P.D.R. as if these were highly inflationary as of 1 January 2024. The economy of Lao P.D.R. ceased to be hyperinflationary for periods ending after 31 December 2024 (based on recent inflation data and announcements). Per HKAS 29 paragraph 38, when an economy ceases to be hyperinflationary, the restated amounts at the end of the last period under HKAS 29 become the new carrying amounts for subsequent periods. No further inflation adjustments are made.

ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below.

Impairment of goodwill

The Group determines whether goodwill is impaired at least on an annual basis. This requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which the goodwill is allocated. Estimating the value in use requires the Group to make an estimate of the expected future cash flows from the cash-generating units and also to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. The carrying amount of goodwill at 31 December 2025 was HK$68,867,000 (2024: HK$68,193,000). Further details are given in note 14.

Provision for expected credit losses on trade receivables

The Group uses a provision matrix to calculate ECLs for trade receivables. The provision rates are based on groupings of various customer segments that have similar loss patterns (i.e., by geography, customer type and rating).

The provision matrix is initially based on the Group's historical observed default rates and time value. The Group calibrates the matrix to adjust the historical credit loss experience with forward-looking information. For instance, if forecast economic conditions (i.e., gross domestic product) are expected to deteriorate over the next year which can lead to an increased number of defaults in the manufacturing sector, the historical default rates are adjusted. At each reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analyzed.

The assessment of the correlation among historical observed default rates, forecast economic conditions and ECLs is a significant estimate. The amount of ECLs is sensitive to changes in circumstances and forecast economic conditions. The Group's historical credit loss experience and forecast of economic conditions may also not be representative of a customer's actual default in the future. The information about the ECLs on the Group's trade receivables is disclosed in note 21 to the financial statements.

Leases – Estimating the incremental borrowing rate

The Group cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in a lease, and therefore, it uses an incremental borrowing rate ("IBR") to measure lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Group would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment. The IBR therefore reflects what the Group "would have to pay", which requires estimation when no observable rates are available (such as for subsidiaries that do not enter into financing transactions) or when it needs to be adjusted to reflect the terms and conditions of the lease (for example, when leases are not in the subsidiary's functional currency). The Group estimates the IBR using observable inputs (such as market interest rates) when available and is required to make certain entity-specific estimates (such as the subsidiary's stand-alone credit rating).

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised, based upon the likely timing and level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. The carrying value of deferred tax assets relating to recognised tax losses at 31 December 2025 was HK$19,341,000 (2024: HK$27,176,000).

Further details on deferred taxes are disclosed in note 15 to the financial statements.

Recognition of a deferred tax liability for withholding taxes

The PRC New Corporate Income Tax Law, which became effective on 1 January 2008, states that the distribution of dividends by a foreign-invested enterprise established in Chinese mainland to its foreign investors, from its earnings of 2008 or thereafter, shall be subject to withholding taxes at an applicable rate of 5% or 10%. The directors had assessed whether it is probable for the Group's PRC subsidiaries to distribute dividends out of their profits earned after 1 January 2008. For details, refer to note 15 to the financial statements.

Provision against obsolete and slow-moving inventories

The Group reviews the condition of its inventories at the end of each reporting period and makes provisions against obsolete and slow-moving inventory items which are identified as no longer suitable for sale or use based on sales forecasts. Such sales forecasts are prepared based on agreements or orders on hand and estimated sales in the foreseeable future based on historical experiences with its customers and current market conditions of telecommunications industry. Management estimates the net realisable value for those obsolete and slow-moving inventories based primarily on the latest invoice prices and current market conditions. The estimation is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. The provision against obsolete and slow-moving inventories requires the use of judgements and estimates. Where the actual outcome or expectation in future is different from the original estimate, such difference will impact on the carrying value of inventories and the write-down of inventories recognised in the periods in which such estimates have been changed. Further details are contained in note 6 and 20 to the financial statements.

Fair value of unlisted equity investments

The unlisted equity investments have been valued based on a market-based valuation technique as detailed in note 37 to the financial statements. The valuation requires the Group to determine the comparable public companies (peers) and select the price multiple. In addition, the Group makes estimates about the discount for illiquidity and size differences. The fair value of the unlisted equity investments at 31 December 2025 was HK$209,390,000 (2024: HK$176,953,000). Further details are included in note 18 to the financial statements.

At 31 December 2025, the best estimate of the carrying amount of capitalised development costs was HK$262,567,000 (2024: HK$259,052,000). For details, please refer to note 16 to the financial statements.

IMPAIRMENT TESTING OF GOODWILL

Goodwill acquired through business combinations is allocated to the following cash-generating units (“CGUs”) for impairment testing:

- Wireless telecommunications equipment CGU; and
- Provision of operator telecommunication services and their value added services CGU.

The recoverable amount of goodwill is determined based on a value in use calculation. The value in use calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets covering at least a 5-year period approved by management. The discount rate applied to the cash flow projections is approximately from 15% to 20% (2024: 15% to 20%), and cash flows beyond the 5-year period were extrapolated using a growth rate of 2.0% to 3.0% (2024: 2.0% to 3.0%), which was represented by expected long term CPI growth rate.

Management has determined the budgeted gross margins based on past performance and its expectation for market development. The discount rate reflects specific risks relating to the cash-generating unit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

15. DEFERRED TAX (continued)

Pursuant to the PRC Corporate Income Tax Law, a 10% withholding tax is levied on dividends declared to foreign investors from the foreign investment enterprises established in Chinese mainland. The requirement is effective from 1 January 2008 and applies to earnings after 31 December 2007. A lower withholding tax rate may be applied if there is a tax treaty between Chinese mainland and the jurisdiction of the foreign investors. For the Group, the applicable rate is 10%. The Group is therefore liable for withholding taxes on dividends distributed by those subsidiaries established in Chinese mainland in respect of earnings generated from 1 January 2008.

As at 31 December 2025, the Group recognised the relevant deferred tax liabilities of HK$9,425,000 (2024: HK$7,196,000) on earnings anticipated to be distributed by a subsidiary in the foreseeable future. No withholding tax has been provided for the earnings of approximately HK$1,571,051,000 (2024: HK$1,706,922,000) as these earnings are expected to be retained by the PRC subsidiaries and not to be distributed to a foreign investor in the foreseeable future based on several factors, including management's estimation of overseas funding requirements, the working capital demand for business operation in Chinese mainland and the Company's dividend policy.

The loss rate is adjusted to reflect the current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions, as appropriate. The loss rate applied as at 31 December 2025 was 0.10% to 10.00% and 100% for stage 1 and stage 3 respectively (2024: 0.10% to 10.00% and 100% for stage 1 and stage 3).

The balances also include retention money, which is for assurance that the product and services comply with agreed-upon specifications, of approximately 10% to 20% of the total contract sum of each project and are generally receivable after final certification of products by customers, which would be performed 6 to 12 months after sale. The credit terms for major customers are reviewed regularly by senior management. The Group seeks to maintain strict control over its outstanding receivables and has a credit control department to minimize the credit risk. Overdue balances are reviewed regularly by senior management. The Group does not hold any collateral or other credit enhancements over these balances. Trade receivables are non-interest-bearing.

Exchange realignment	27,230	(22,063)
At end of year	692,152	712,445

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date using a provision matrix to measure expected credit losses. The provision rates are based on groupings of various customer segments with similar loss patterns (i.e., geography, customer type and rating). The calculation reflects the probability-weighted outcome, the time value of money and reasonable and supportable information that is available at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions. Generally, trade receivables are written off when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty or there is no realistic prospect of future recovery.

37. FAIR VALUE AND FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Management has assessed that the fair values of cash and cash equivalents, the current portion of restricted bank deposits and time deposit, trade receivables, notes receivable, trade and bills payables, financial assets included in prepayments, other receivables and other assets, financial liabilities included in other payables, the current portion of interest-bearing bank borrowings and accruals approximate to their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

The fair values of the non-current portion of restricted bank deposits, interest-bearing bank borrowings and lease liabilities have been calculated by discounting the expected future cash flows using rates currently available for instruments with similar terms, credit risk and remaining maturities. The changes in fair values as a result of the Group's own non-performance risk for interest-bearing bank borrowings as at 31 December 2025 were assessed to be insignificant.

As at 31 December 2024 and 2025, the carrying amount of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities approximate to their fair values.

The fair values of unlisted equity investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income/profit and loss have been estimated using a market-based valuation technique based on assumptions that are not supported by observable market prices or rates. The valuation requires the directors to determine comparable public companies (peers) based on industry, size, leverage and strategy, and to calculate an appropriate price multiple, such as price to sales ("P/S") multiple, for each comparable company identified. The multiple is calculated by dividing the enterprise value of the comparable company by an earnings measure. The trading multiple is then discounted for considerations such as illiquidity and size differences between the comparable companies based on company-specific facts and circumstances. The discounted multiple is applied to the corresponding earnings measure of the unlisted equity investments to measure the fair value. The directors believe that the estimated fair values resulting from the valuation technique, which are recorded in the consolidated statement of financial position, and the related changes in fair values, which are recorded in other comprehensive income/profit and loss, are reasonable, and that they were the most appropriate values at the end of the reporting period.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

37. FAIR VALUE AND FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Set out below is a summary of significant unobservable inputs to the valuation of financial instruments together with a quantitative sensitivity analysis as at 31 December 2025 and 2024:

	Valuation technique	Significant unobservable input	Range	Sensitivity of fair value to the input
Unlisted equity investments	Valuation multiples	Average P/S multiple of peers	2.59 to 11.51 (2024: 2.51 to 16.16)	10% (2024:10%) increase/decrease in multiple would result in increase/decrease in fair value by HK$2,282,000 (2024: HK$17,137,000)
		Discount for lack of marketability	30% (2024: 30%)	10% (2024:10%) increase/decrease in multiple would result in decrease/increase in fair value by HK$811,000 (2024: HK$7,267,000)

The discount for lack of marketability represents the amounts of premiums and discounts determined by the Group that market participants would take into account when pricing the investments.

38. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's principal financial instruments comprise interest-bearing bank borrowings, cash, redeemable preferred shares in a subsidiary and short-term deposits. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to provide finance for the Group's operations. The Group has various other financial assets and liabilities such as trade receivables and trade payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The main risks arising from the Group's financial instruments are interest rate risk, foreign currency risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Board reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarized below:

INTEREST RATE RISK

The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long-term debt obligation with floating rates.

The following table demonstrates the sensitivity at the end of the reporting period to a reasonably possible change in interest rate, with all other variables held constant, of the Group's profit before tax and the Group's equity.

FOREIGN CURRENCY RISK

The Group has transactional currency exposures. Such exposures arise from sales or purchases by operating units in currencies other than the units' functional currencies. Approximately 11.8% (2024: 15.0%) of the Group's sales were denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies of the operating units making the sales, whilst approximately 97.9% (2024: 97.4%) of costs were denominated in the units' functional currencies.

The following table demonstrates the sensitivity at the end of the reporting period to a reasonably possible change in the exchange rates of currencies other than the functional currencies of the relevant operating units, with all other variables held constant, of the Group's profit before tax (due to changes in the fair values of monetary assets and liabilities) and the Group's equity.

CREDIT RISK

The Group trades only with recognised and creditworthy third parties. It is the Group's policy that all customers who wish to trade on credit terms are subject to credit verification procedures. In addition, receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis and the Group's exposure to bad debts is not significant.

Maximum exposure and year-end staging

The table below shows the credit quality and the maximum exposure to credit risk based on the Group's credit policy, which is mainly based on past due information unless other information is available without undue cost or effort, and year-end staging classification as at 31 December 2025. For listed debt investments, the Group also monitors them by using external credit ratings. The amounts presented are gross carrying amounts for financial assets and the exposure to credit risk for the financial guarantee contracts.

* For trade receivables to which the Group applies the simplified approach for impairment, information based on the provision matrix is disclosed in note 21 to the financial statements.

The credit risk of the Group's other financial assets, which comprise cash at banks and other receivables, arises from default of the counterparty, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amounts of these instruments.

Since the Group trades only with recognised and creditworthy third parties, there is no requirement for collateral. Concentrations of credit risk are managed by counterparty, by geographical region and by industry sector. At the end of the reporting period, the Group has certain concentrations of credit risk as 18% (2024: 21%) and 52% (2024: 59%) of the Group's trade receivables were due from the Group's largest customer and the 5 largest customers, respectively.

Further quantitative data in respect of the Group's exposure to credit risk arising from trade receivables is disclosed in note 21 to the financial statements.

LIQUIDITY RISK

The Group monitors its risk to a shortage of funds using a recurring liquidity planning tool. This tool considers the maturity of both its financial instruments and financial assets (e.g., trade receivables) and projected cash flows from operations.

The Group's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through the use of interest-bearing bank borrowings and lease liabilities. In addition, banking facilities have been put in place for contingency purposes. The maturity profile of the Group's financial liabilities as at the end of the reporting period, based on the contractual undiscounted payments, is as follows:

CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The primary objective of the Group's capital management is to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and to maintain healthy capital ratios in order to support its business and maximize shareholders' value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in the light of changes in economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares. The Group is not subject to any externally imposed capital requirements. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years ended 31 December 2024 and 2025.

Capital is the total equity of the Group. The Group monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is interest-bearing bank borrowings divided by the total assets. The gearing ratios as at the end of the reporting periods were as follows:

	2025 HK$'000	2024 HK$'000
Interest-bearing bank borrowings	727,831	841,170
Total assets	7,217,645	7,439,608
Gearing ratio	10.1%	11.3%
